Introducing the OAG

The eight divisions and various units within the Office of the Attorney General (OAG) collectively work together to meet our mission and vision while upholding the workplace values we strive for. We seek to Help Guam Families by assisting parents with obtaining financial support to raise their children in the Child Support Enforcement Division; rehabilitating and adjudicating minors in criminal proceedings and providing GovGuam with representation for cases involving youth and incapacitated adults in the Family Division; and our Victim Service Center guides victims and their families through the criminal justice process by providing case updates and facilitating access to resources and services.

We strive to Protect the Public through the work of our Prosecution Division which prosecutes all adult criminal cases and in our Consumer Protection Division, we seek to enforce local law against false, misleading and deceptive practices and promote consumer education and awareness.

We continue to Serve the Government, our client, through the Civil Litigation Division which represents agencies and individual employees in civil actions involving GovGuam; the Solicitor Division provides legal counsel to GovGuam agencies through the review of procurements and contracts, or through legal advice and opinions; and the General Counsel Division, created in 2020 to serve as liaison to the legislature, focuses on matters concerning external and internal policy and procedure. Lastly, our Administration Division supports the needs and business operations of the entire OAG.

Pandemic Overview

Last year brought unprecedented challenges as we faced COVID-19. Using technology-driven solutions, we continued our mission while keeping the safety of our employees and the community our top priority. All employees were able to work safely & remotely for the duration of the stay-at-home order using a cloud-based workspace, an initiative we prioritized and introduced this fiscal year. Virtual meeting rooms for visitors were created for safe access to our office and staff, as well as to allow our attorneys access to virtual court hearings, and all safety protocols were followed for our frontline employees who directly assisted, investigated, mediated or litigated for GovGuam and the public on various pandemic-related matters. Highlights of the work we conducted during the public health emergency are illustrated below.

Our Performance

The public health emergency shifted aspects of the way we conducted business in FY2020. Personnel resources were realigned to assist the government in responding to the needs of our island, including the enforcement of quarantine and isolation orders and litigating petitions lodged with the court; investigating reports of price-gouging; and shifting child support operations to meet the demands of reviewing stimulus relief checks for garnishment. Alongside these duties, each division continued its daily functions serving the public, displayed below.

Over two quarters of FY20 was during the public health emergency. The priority was responding to the COVID-19 pandemic. As a result, there were significant impacts on our operations, including our ability to fill vacancies and to procure supplies and equipment that were not directly related to the COVID-19 response. This contributed to our expenditure rate.

Salaries, benefits and building rent and utilities comprise of 85.1 % of the OAG's total expenditures. The remaining 14.9% includes the purchase of supplies and materials; contractual services like document storage and record management; and equipment purchases.

Since the onset, AG Camacho committed to increasing the use of technology to better serve our community and enhance the workplace experience for our employees. A quarter of all fully executed purchase orders in FY2020 went towards technology infrastructure, equipment and upgrades to help achieve this goal.

Invitations for Bid for technology improvements were initiated in FY2020 and completed and implemented in early FY2021 because of the public health emergency. Here is a breakdown of technology-related purchase orders initiated in FY2020 and finalized in FY2021.

Looking Ahead

The OAG intends to continue building out its technology capacity in the coming years as both cost-saving measures and to expand employee resiliency, security and effectiveness.

Priorities

One way to improve the way that our Child Support Enforcement Divisions helps Guam families is through updating the Absent Parent Automated Payment Information (APASI) system. The modernizing of this system would allow us to improve service to our consumers, while also reducing maintenance costs which run over $1M each year.

We recognize that the public's confidence in our office and the criminal justice system is essential to building communities. We are working toward final procedures for the handling of officer involved incidents or cases where the public interest favors an independent investigation. We are also looking at ways that we can expand on our support of local law enforcement partners through updating software, purchasing equipment, and providing training opportunities.

With the rise nationally in cyber attacks, we are building on our technological resilience within our office. This work started with the move to a cloud-based email platform, but we are now expanding use across the office to shared workflows and data storage. These investments will result in both increased efficiency and resilience.

Finally, so much of the work we do as an office cannot be captured by performance metrics. We continue to build on our efforts to protect our environment through litigation which includes cases such as our PFAS litigation, National Environmental Policy Act litigation, and a case to have the U.S. Navy pay its fair share of cleaning Ordot Dump.

Future Challenges and Economic Outlook

The COVID-19 pandemic will continue to present the most significant operational and economic challenge for the OAG and government of Guam as a whole. There will be recurring costs that we will see moving forward such as increased bandwidth to handle the demands of videoconferencing, software that meets all necessary security requirements, and tools that create a more efficient management of cases and data.

Our team will continue to be called on to adapt to an environment that is increasingly reliant on remote access and electronic data. We will need to build on our ability to receive, organize, and store digital information. We will need to learn to communicate with the court, stakeholders, and our clients through the use of online technology.

The OAG strives to increase transparency and works to finalize procedures for the handling of officer involved incidents.
