TOTAL CASES APPOINTED OR RECEIVED

In Fiscal Year 2017, the PDSC provided legal services in adult criminal, juvenile and civil cases. There was slightly fewer number of cases, 1,753, compared to the previous year of 1,798. The difference of 45 fewer cases is attributed to fewer cases being charged or filed through the judicial system during this particular fiscal year. From the total number of cases received, seventy-four percent (74%) of the cases were criminal in nature. The attorneys and administrative support staff employed by the office render legal services to individuals who are accused of public offenses, and who cannot afford to retain the services of a private attorney. PDSC also represents any person under the age of 18 who is facing juvenile delinquency proceedings, or whom the court has instituted wardship proceedings because of habitual truancy or incorrigibility.

TYPES OF CASES

Cases We Opened in FY2017

Criminal	1,299
Juvenile	338
Civil	78
Others	37
Domestic	1

OPEN VS. CLOSED

PDSC was able to close 1,238 cases in FY2017, compared to FY2016's numbers at 465 cases. This significant case closure (64%) is attributed to judicial time standards and the implementation of PDSC's Standard Operating Procedure for Records & Retention. As a major accomplishment for the Corporation, the office cleared and destroyed hundreds of boxes that contained closed cases based the PDSC's retention policy.

EXPENDITURE & ENCUMBRANCES

In FY2017, PDSC's operational funds came from the General Fund. PDSC also received money from the Judiciary of Guam, at 23%, for the Alternate Public Defender (APD). The money from Judiciary is a pass through for PDSC as the funds go directly to APD to fund their operations for indigent defense.

With a reduction of funding in FY2017, the PDSC attorneys and staff continued to do more with less. We worked diligently to provide quality legal services to our clients to yield better client outcomes. We advocated for trying to understand what is at the root of our clients' incarceration as opposed to the penal system we have today that does not address the complex set of core issues that our community faces particularly with drug addiction, criminal sexual conduct and alcohol abuse. Ideally, we would like to see our clients have the tools necessary to lead crime free lives and to fit into society as productive members for a better Guam. As we work to address some of these issues within our penal system, we need to understand if public safety is better served by incarcerating clients convicted of these types of cases, or would a community-based solution, that includes treatment and prevention programs, be more efficient and effective at curbing cases of abuse and promoting public safety? PDSC is committed to being a part of the solution for treatment, which is a less expensive option than incarceration for offenders within these three categories of crimes that we deal with at our office.

PDSC is included in the Government-wide annual audit. For FY2017, the Corporation received a clean audit with no material weakness. Complete financial information can be found at www.guampdsc.net/pdsc/category/financials/

Future Challenges & Economic Outlook

Challenges We Face

The Sixth Amendment guarantees anyone facing criminal charges the right to a speedy and public trial by an impartial jury and legal counsel. Consequently, with its 1963 decision in Gideon v. Wainwright, the U.S. Supreme Court ruled anyone charged with a serious crime had a “fundamental” right to counsel, no matter their ability to pay. However, with this fundamental right left to the Legislature to provide PDSC with adequate funding, we are looking at other avenues to bring in funds, outside of GovGuam, so that PDSC can better manage its criminal cases as well as lift the moratorium on civil matters. While we have requested for funding for a Civil Division since FY2015, we are now exploring other funding options that will allow us to lift the civil moratorium that has been in effect since 2005.

In today’s climate, we continue to pay close attention to activities at the Legislature, and do believe that funding challenges will continue beyond FY2017. We know that we need to continue to do more with less, and that this has become a way of life at your Public Defender office with a commitment to provide quality client-centered services.

ON ISLAND TRAINING

Investing in Our Team

Our Outlook for FY2018

- ❑ Seek additional funding sources and programs, outside of GovGuam, to improve service delivery and eventually lift the civil moratorium that has been in effect since 2005.
- ❑ Recruit a Program Coordinator to help seek grants for the Corporation as well as assist management in enhancing processes at PDSC that influence positive client outcomes.
- ❑ Implement empirical research, that includes data collection programs that address relevant issues concerning public defense and ways to improve internal as well as external processes throughout PDSC.
- ❑ Sustain the Strategic Planning momentum that includes Strategic Focus Area (SFA) projects that were developed in FY2015 and will continue into FY2018.
- ❑ Continue to invest in and educate our team by providing training opportunities on Guam. We brought off-island defense attorneys, Laurie Shanks and Terry Kindlon, to train our team of 51 employees. We also encouraged our managers to train within their respective divisions to improve PDSC services.
- ❑ Maintain collaboration with PDSC partners for community based solutions to address the problems our penal system currently faces.
- ❑ Refine internal processes that take advantage of the “Second Chance Initiative” that assists clients with dismissals and expungements if they served their sentence, and are not guilty of sex crimes, murder, domestic violence, or aggravated assault.
